

BIOGRAPHY

Adeel Ajwad Butt, MD, MS, FACP, FIDSA

*Vice Chair, Department of Medicine
Director, Clinical Epidemiology Research Unit
Hamad Medical Corporation, Doha, Qatar*

*Professor of Medicine and Healthcare Policy and Research
Weill Cornell Medical College, New York NY and Doha Qatar*

*Chair, Institutional Review Board
Weill Cornell Medical College, Qatar*

A graduate of The Aga Khan University and University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, Prof. Butt completed a residency in Internal Medicine in New York and a fellowship in Infectious Diseases in New Orleans. Prof. Butt's work, education and training experience spans several countries over five continents. Prof. Butt is a Fulbright Scholar, a Yale-Johnson and Johnson Scholar in International Health, a National Talent Pool Scholar, IDSA Training Faculty Scholar, and recipient of US National Institutes of Health Career Development Award, Abu Dhabi Health Services Company Excellence in Research Award, HMC Qatar Excellence in Health Services Research Award and multiple other national and international awards. Dr. Butt has lectured extensively around the world as a visiting professor and consulted with governmental and non-governmental organizations, and academic institutions in building research, educational and training capacity in resource constrained settings.

Over the past 20 years, Prof. Butt has held numerous senior academic positions, including Clinical Director, Residency Program Director, Division Chief, Department Chair, Institute Director and Corporate Chief Quality Officer. He has published over 170 papers in high impact medical journals, presented over 175 abstracts at major international conferences, and has mentored numerous young physicians and researchers who now hold key positions in academia in the United States.